the authentic soul of Sardinia ,

In exquisite Barbagia, a severe and yet surprising stretch in Sardinia, the sea a few dozens of miles away, hides a world full of junipers and embroidery, terracotta and inlaid work, Sardinian artists of the Novecento and a strong culinary tradition.

a story
that began long ago,

Su Gologone started as a restaurant in 1967 from an idea of Giuseppe "Peppeddu" Palimodde, who wanted to offer traditional food in an area full of bandits, close to the Su Gologone natural spring. With the help of his wife Pasqua, capable of concocting sublime dishes, the first restaurant in Oliena became so popular that people came from far and wide to taste its delicacies. Following such a success, there came the idea of offering accommodation to the clients: the initial eight rooms became thirty-three in 1975, up to the current seventy. Still, calling them "rooms" would be diminishing; they are, in fact, journeys into Sardinian art, culture and hospitality. Giovanna Palimodde, daughter of Peppeddu, is the author of the external décor and the room arrangements, and with the help of her daughter Camilla, the beauty of Su Gologone shines everywhere. From the magical Bar Tablao, theatre of unforgettable aperitifs, to the Terrace of Dreams and of Wishes, where you can gaze at the stars, without forgetting the marvellous Botteghe d'Arte, the Herb Garden and the many coloured spaces. An explosive, tireless mind, Giovanna reinvents the décor every year: each visit thus becomes a new discovery.

Discovering Sardinia surrounded by traditional objects and materials in the Country Suite. Relax in the fabulous terrace overlooking the herb garden, relaxing in the external bath tub or on the hammock, listening to the pleasing Barbagia sounds.

the art of Barbagia

Everything at Su Gologone recalls Sardinian art, from the artworks that are dotted around the hotel to exquisite food.

In the Country Suites, the decor recalls the art of Barbagia: orbace, leather and wood, traditional Sardinian materials, are combined with wooden items, carved by local wood carpenters.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITES

Sardinia is bewildering when it comes to its archaeological sites, in fact this marvellous island hides many secrets. The exact function of its 7,000 nuraghi, in particular, still has to be determined: what is known about this Bronze Age population is that it was made up by shepherds and farmers. The entire island is dotted with many examples of this stunning architecture.
