

TERRE BORROMEO

Immersed in the suggestive waters of Lake Maggiore, the Borromean Islands are jaw-droppingly beautiful. Loved by Ernest Hemingway and, in more recent times, by the English Royals, this Archipelago is made up of the monumental Isola Bella, the picturesque Isola dei Pescatori and the lovely Isola Madre. On the other shore of the lake, the medieval castle of Rocca di Angera will welcome you in a magical alchemy of spectacular panoramas, large courtyards, elegant halls and frescoed vaults.

Beloved by writers and historical figures the likes of Dickens and Montesquieu, Stendhal and Hemingway, the Borromean Islands are jewels set in the blue waters of Lake Maggiore. Visiting them is like lifting a curtain to reveal the history of the aristocratic family of Tuscan origins that began in the 15th century and that transformed these locations from ancient military garrisons and religious centres into refined corners of art, culture and nature.

Seen from above, Isola Bella looks like a great ship overflowed with beauty, the splendid palace being the prow and the Italianate garden the stern. Inside the baroque Borromeo residence there is a succession of extraordinary rooms and halls decorated in marbles and neoclassical stuccos that preserve antique sculptures, suits of armour, and gold and silk Flemish tapestries.

The location is nothing short of magical, the whole island to yourself once the tourists leave with the last ferry. You will feel like a guest of the Borromeo family, whose palace fills the rest of the island, and you will experience the Isola Bella in a new and unique way.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Isola Bella can be reached with the public ferry boat directly from Stresa. Our guests are welcomed on the island by a member of staff and are accompanied to the apartment.

For those who wish to have dinner in the apartment, we strongly suggest buying groceries (including condiments) before getting on the island. You will find in the village the street "Vicolo del Fornello" which offers different shops with fashion brands made in Italy and a particular Bistrot called "Il Fornello, bottega con cucina", where you can buy a selection of gourmet products, and enjoy delightful and tasty meals or dinners cooked with typical products of the Italian tradition (opening time from 9.45 am).
